

FATA SP SECUM

The image features a highly detailed, horizontal title banner. The central focus is a glowing blue energy core, resembling a plasma or fireball, which is contained within a circular, metallic frame. This core is surrounded by a complex, ornate metal structure that extends horizontally to the left and right. The metal has a dark, metallic sheen with intricate, engraved patterns. The text 'FATA SP SECUM' is rendered in a white, stylized, gothic-style font with a blue outline, set against the glowing blue background of the banner. The overall aesthetic is that of a high-quality, fantasy-themed graphic design.
